timony designed to show that Thomas Mott Osborne had full knowledge of Sing prison while he was warden there Sing prison while he was warden there was brought out by the prosecution at the trial of Osborne which began today. William Willett, Jr., a former congressman, who was imprisoned in Sing Sing prison for buying a supreme ourt judgeship nomination in Queens county, and James Harvey, also a prison inmate, were the principal wit-nesses against Osborne. The indictment against the former warden charging perjury, is based on his testimy last October before Dr. Rudolph Diedling, a state prison commissioner who conducted an investigation at Sine so far as the prison is concerned." Documentary Evidence Admitted. Harvey, on whose story of immoralwere conducted, had testified to ditions there when Willett, now com-pleting at the Great Meadows prison the sentence imposed after his conviction, was called as a witness. His testimony as to the extent of Osborne's knowledge of the alleged immoral co ditions was assisted by Assistant Dis-trict Attorney William J. Fallon with documentary evidence in the form of Mutual Welfare league complaint and Mutual Welfare league complaint and punishment slips, which were admitted into the record. These papers, taken from the files at Sing Sing, recited the charges and showed the sentences imposed by the league on its offending members. This organization was inaugurated by Osborne in ald his "reform from within" plan.

Sought to Prove Witness Was Disgruntled. Through cross examination of Wil-ett, George Gordon Battle, counsel for Osborne, sought to bring out that Wil-ett, disgruntled because Osborne had lenied him special privileges at Sing Sing, had aided the prosecution in the preparation of the perjury accusation in the hope that he would soon be paroled. Willett denied this, when Harvey told before the wel-fare Rague of his immoral relations with officers of the Mutual Welfare league, it was Willett who presided, at Osborne's request, he testified. As a result of Harvey's recital, Oeborne con-ducted an inquiry during which the ac-cused officers at first denied but later idmitted their guilt. The documents introduced by Mr. Fallon showed that 18 members were suspended from the league and decided to appeal to the Willett denied that Mr. Weeks or John B. Riley, then state superintendent of prisons, had promised him pa urn for assistance, or that he was ostile to Osborne, because the and opposed a parole bill pending in the legislature.

Attorney Battle said tonight that he would refrain from calling any witnesses, including Osborne himself. "If the prosecution brings out nothing more serious than it did today."
